AMEND Senate Bill No. 1850

House Bill No. 1699***

by deleting the following language:

(1) "Nonpotentially hazardous foods" means jam, jellies, candy, baked goods, dried mixes, cheeses, spices, certain sauces and liquids, and other such foods that do not meet the definition of potentially hazardous foods; and

and by substituting instead the following:

(1) "Nonpotentially hazardous foods" means jam, jellies, candy, dried mixes, cheeses, spices, and other such foods that do not meet the definition of potentially hazardous foods.

"Nonpotentially hazardous foods" also includes baked goods and food products that the person prepares and cans at home if:

(A) The person sells the baked goods and food products at a community or social event, including church bazaars and festivals, or a farmers' market;

(B) The person receives less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per year from the sale of the baked goods and food products; and

(C) The person displays a sign at the place of sale stating: "These goods are homemade and not subject to state inspection."; and
